Convicted felon oradump export kit 5.0.9 crack The U.S. Justice Department, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Internal Revenue Service have spent months in denial about what - and how much - they knew about the growing trafficking operation, according to people involved in the case. They said cooperation from anti-money laundering programs in the banking and law enforcement communities helped identify the scheme. The people, who spoke on condition of anonymity because of the sensitivity of the case, say no one could keep track of the millions of dollars in drug proceeds until the probe was about to be opened. It was at least early 2006, the people said, that the Internal Revenue Service realized that the funds were flowing through U.S. financial institutions and that the funds were believed to be the proceeds of illegal activity. Four other senior IRS agents, who were also involved in the investigation, learned about it at about the same time, the people said.
